WITH THE ARMED FORCES

Stf. Sgt. WILFRED SIMMONS, who has been visiting with his in-laws, the Hugh Kibbys, left Niles last Monday for Alabama. He will be stationed at a camp there. He formerly had been stationed at Camp Roberts. Mrs. Simmons (Barbara Kibby) and little Billy will remain here in Niles.

—V—

ROBERT KIBBY, son of the Hugh Kibbys of Niles, will be leaving shortly for the Great Lakes Training Center in Michigan. He has been working as technician for the Aluminum Company of America in Portland. He is spending a few days with his parents before leaving for Michigan.

—V—

Mrs. Rose Sessa of Newark says that her son, S1/c LOUIS S. SESSA, was home for an hour last Monday, but she doesn't feel too badly over his short leave because he gets home quite frequently, as he has been stationed in the bay area. She never knows, for sure, however, just how long it will be before she sees him again, as he may be sent out at any time.

—V—

S EUGENE RAMSELL of Centerville writes to his wife from Faragut, Idaho, that he will be home on a furlough as soon as he passes his swimming tests. It seems that the Navy holds out this reward to the sailors in order to get them to be good swimmers. (Smart navy!—Ed.)

—V—

Pvt. ARTHUR MARTIN, son of Mrs. Henry Martin of Newark, has returned to his base in Mississippi, after having spent a 20-day furlough here. He celebrated his return from two years in the Aleutians by getting married to LaVerne Burns of Hayward. The young couple went to Reno to be married. Mrs. Martin will live with her parents in Hayward for the present.

—V—

Signalman WILLIAM E. SILVA writes that he has now been in the Navy for over two years. For 10 months of that time, he has been at sea. He is now somewhere in the South Pacific and writes, "I'm in the pink, and it's not bad here, but there's no place like good old Niles."

—V—

Pfc. JOSEPH HEDIGER writes to Mrs. J. C. Shinn that he is again back in New Guinea, after a furlough spent in Australia. "The mosquitoes," he writes, "don't seem quite so bad as they used to. It is still plenty hot, though; we don't need blankets at night until along towards morning. Wish you could have some of the cocoanuts we have here. They are the only kind of fruit that grows here, though. The other fruit we get is all canned. The rumors continue to fly around that we will get sent back to the States, but I won't believe it until I see the good old Golden Gate." Hediger has been in the South Pacific for two years. Here's hoping you get to see the Golden Gate before too long, Pfc. Hediger!

NILES RATION BOARD CHANGES HOURS STARTING JUNE 19

Sunday afternoon, June 11, the Washington Union High School will hold its commencement exercises at 3:30 o'clock. Everybody in the community is welcome.

There were 185 members of the Class of '44 at the high school. Now there are 67. Forty of the boys are serving in the armed forces, about 35 have left the community, and a considerable number are working in industry or agriculture.

However, 92 will receive diplomas Sunday from M. J. Overacker, president of the board of trustees. There are 67 seniors, 8 evening high students, and 17 boys in the armed forces.

There will be four student speakers on the program who will speak on the theme, "Building Tomorrow." They are Rachel Williams, Charles Marriott, Charlotte Lewis, and Ernest Tremblay.

Rev. John Clogher will deliver the invocation and benediction. Awards will be presented by J. R. Rees, viceprincipal, M. J. Overacker, and J. V. Goold, principal. The choir and band, under the direction of D. H. Thornburg, will present musical numbers

TONIGHT'S SENIOR BALL TO BE BIG EVENT OF SEASON

The Annual Senior Ball is being held tonight (Friday) in the High School gym from 9 to 1. Theme for this year is "A Garden" and the gym has been decorated to carry out that idea, with flowers and shrubbery being used for the effects, and even large mirrors being placed in the middle of the floor to represent a pond.

There will be arches and tall pillars of lights around the room, and lawn chairs and lawn swings will be used to good advantage to give reality to the garden idea.

It is expected that the whole scene will be spectacular and all credit goes to Marjorie Jackson and her committee for the splendid results they have accomplished. The committee consists of Mildred Martin, Betty Vieux, Nelda Gaunt, Jesse Jacinto, Alvin Silva, Charles Marriott, Joyce Karel, Blanche Pratali, Martha Ferraris, Herman Mesquite, Ernie Tremblay, Harry Querner, and Delphine Soito.

The high school orchestra will furnish music for the event, under the leadership of Albie Silva. Refreshments will be served in the small gym. Trustees and the administration of the school will be guests of the senior class. Other guests of students will be admitted by bids.

CHURCH AT NILES HOLDS IMPRESSIVE D-DAY SERVICE

Among the impressive D-Day prayer services held throughout the nation on Memorable Tuesday, June 6, was that held at 7 o'clock in the evening at the Niles Congregational Church and arranged by Rev. D. Q. Grabill.

Several small radios placed throughout the church auditorium carried martial and religious music as the worshippers of all denominations and creeds filled every new and overflowed into the Guild room. The Niles Scout troop was present in uniform under the supervision of Scoutmaster Fred Duffie.

The Christian flag stood to the right of the altar and the American flag to the left, and a beautiful bowl of red sweet peas, white Watsonia and blue delphinium, banked in tiers, made an appropriate adornment for the altar.

Promptly at 7 the President of the United States broadcast a 6-minute prayer and literally conducted the service by remote control at the Niles church, and thousands of other churches throughout the land. Then followed the singing of Onward Christian Soldiers and the Battle Hymn of the Republic by trained choristers, broadcast from the nation's capital.

Rev. Grabill assumed charge of the service at 7:15 o'clock. Hymns were sung by the congregation, Scripture lessons were read, and he preached on the significance and importance of the invasion then going forward. He offered several periods of prayer, one of them joined in by the congregation, praying in silence.

To the Boy Scouts present, Mr. Grabill stressed the importance of prayer in the lives of freedom-loving people, pointing out that General Eisenhower, commander-in-chief of the invasion, himself took time out from his crushing military duties to pray.

The memory of this D-Day prayer service will remain in the minds and hearts of Niles people for years to come.

On Thursday evening, June 15, at 7:30 o'clock there will be a discussion of juvenile delinquency at the Decoto School under direction of Sheriff H. P. Gleason. All parents and adults interested in 'teen-age children are urged to attend.

OUR OVERSEAS ARMY

Announcement by the War Department that this country now has nearly 4,000,000 men overseas, and that this fighting force on foreign soil will reach 5,000,000 by the end of the year, is indicative of the magnitude of this global war.

TOWNSHIP CHAIRMAN STARTS 'BIG JOB'

STARTING WITH A CLEAN SHEET of paper in front of him, L. R. Burdick, head of the Fifth War Loan for Washington Township, faces the big job of raising $600,000. With full confidence in the men and women who will work with him, Burdick hopes to more than fulfill his quota.

HEAD OF FIFTH WAR LOAN DRIVE SHOOTS OFF OPENING GUN FOR JUNE 12

By L. R. BURDICK

The Fifth War Loan Invasion Army is ready to start firing. Invasion Day is June 12th, and we are going to reach and better our quota of $600,000 for Washington Township before it closes on July 8th.

Town committees have been formed and are ready to go and every man, woman and child will be encouraged to buy more than ever during this important period. Our quota is large, but I am convinced that Washington Township will respond willingly and come through just as it did in the Fourth War Loan.

There is no doubt in my mind but that we are going over the top with a bang this time. We can't fail when we have the support of the schools, churches, industrials, and labor.

Now that the invasion of France is on, this alone will spur us to higher goals. We must help the boys over there, and our only way of doing it over here is to purchase bonds—and then purchase MORE BONDS.

They give their lives, we must lend all we can. All hail to the Fifth War Loan Invasion Army. We are ready, bond buyers. Are you?

His patriotism is written in BLOOD—

YOURS is written on every Bond you buy in the 5TH WAR LOAN!

THE stepping stones to victory are red with blood of American heroes. Tarawa... Salerno . . . Cassino. Their patriotism is written in blood.

Your patriotism is written on every Bond you buy in this vital 5th War Loan. Your name on a War Bond means you're behind our invasion troops.

Help hasten the day of Victory by investing in extra War Bonds now. Invest in more than you've ever purchased before. Invest $100, $200, $300, $400. Those who can, must invest thousands of dollars.

For this is the biggest job we've ever had to do. We can't fail our fighting men as they plunge into the biggest and bloodiest struggle of all.

WELCOME THE VICTORY VOLUNTEERS when they call to tell you about War Bonds

5TH WAR LOAN

THANKS TO POSTMASTERS OF WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP

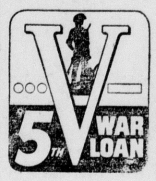
To the postmasters and postmistresses who have co-operated in distributing copies of this issue of The Township Register to every mail box in the township, we express our sincere appreciation.

They are:

Joseph L. Enos, Niles postmaster; Mary B. Janeiro, Decoto postmistress; Manuel Lewis, Centerville, postmaster; Manuel Joseph, Irvington postmaster; Lois Justus, Mission San Jose postmistress; Julia Ruschin, Newark postmistress; and Joseph Brown, Warm Springs postmaster.

To the People of this Community

There will be a feeling of shame in this community if we find ourselves short of the mark when the Fifth War Loan comes to an end July 8.



We will not permit that to happen here, especially if we look around in our homes and our places of employment and see the shadows of relatives and friends who today are in the midst of bloody battle for us.

We cannot emphasize too strongly that regardless of the size of the oversubscription of our community quota, the Fifth War Loan will be a flat failure for you if you do not exceed anything you have done in the past in War Bond buying.

In this invasion hour our fighting men have a right to demand that you make your record contribution to the success of a war loan.

The slogan, Back the Attack—Buy More Than Before, is not merely a catch phrase. It expresses the cold facts about invasion. Unless we make the supreme effort to do everything humanly possible either at our work benches or in our homes with our sweat, our blood and our dollars we hand over our share of the burden to our fighting men.

NEWARK SERGEANT WINS DECORATIONS ON ITALIAN FRONT

Italy, June 7. — At ceremonies close to the Garigliano sector of the Fifth Army front in Italy, Staff Sgt. Carl P. Sheedy, Newark, California, recently was decorated twice by Maj. Gen. Geoffrey Keyes, commanding an American formation in Italy.

Sheedy received the Silver Star for gallantry in action near Mignano, Italy, in January, then had the Bronze Star pinned on him for heroic action the same month at Mt. Trocchio, Italy.

Serving with a medical detachment of a field artillery battalion, he volunteered for the action which won the Silver Star award.

He and a buddy were at the battalion aid station when word came through that two men had been injured by enemy shells. Sergeant Sheedy offered to drive an ambulance and his medical partner went along as assistant. It was almost dark and the road over which they were traveling was under intense shell fire. At times shells burst within 10 yards of them. They reached the injured men, however, and immediately gave first aid in the field.

In direct line of fire, Sheedy and his comrade applied splints and tourniquets. Lifting the wounded men into the ambulance the two drove back through enemy fire to the aid station.

DECOTO NEWS

DISCUSSION GROUP MEETS

The Decoto Discussion Group met June 1 for its regular monthly luncheon and discussion at the home of Mrs. Helen Brown. A most delicious two-course luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Frances Mara.

The preparation of this program was in charge of Mrs. Leontine Costa, who was unable to do the work at this time so the program was an informal but very interesting discussion of the life of St. Francis of Assisi and the history and present points of interest of Mission Dolores. This is the fourth mission studied by the group.

For the next meeting the group will read the "Song of Bernadette." The program will be in charge of Mrs. Florence Wallace. Mrs. Katherine Goularte will be hostess.

Mrs. Roberts of the Alameda County Library was present after an absence of two months. The presence of Miss Mary Barmby and Miss Jean Baird was a most welcome surprise. The group was especially interested in learning that the lovely home of Miss Barmby and her sister, Dr. Barmby in Berkeley, with its entrancing roof garden had been featured in the current issue of the American Home and the article illustrated in color. The Decoto Discussion Group was most delightfully entertained in this home while Miss Barmby was county librarian.

Mrs. Sparks of Decoto was also a guest.

PINOCHLE CLUB MEETS

The Decoto Pinochle Club had a very pleasant evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mara on Saturday evening, June 3. The 16 hands of pinochle were fast and furious with as many ups and downs as a scenic railway. High score was won by Mr. Mara, with Walter Avilla humbly clutching the booby prize.

The most delicious home-made ice cream and cake with which the hostess rewarded the contenders was highly complimented and stimulated the usual jolly hour of conversation. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wallace will entertain the club in July.

MAKES PROUD RECORD

Miss Cecilia Janeiro of Decoto will graduate from the Centerville High School on June 11, having completed the entire senior year's work in night school while working at a full-time job.

The perseverance and ambition involved in spending four evenings each week in class and all other available time in study makes such a diploma not only a proud record of educational courses completed but also a symbol of character of which her relatives and friends are very proud.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown enjoyed a week-end trip to Fresno as a part of Mr. Brown's vacation.

BEAN GROWERS OF COUNTY TO MEET AT S. F. SATURDAY

Growers of some 700 acres of beans in Alameda County will be interested in a state-wide meeting of warehousemen, dealers, and growers representatives to be held in San Francisco Saturday, June 10, to discuss marketing of the 1944 crop of dry edible beans. Agricultural Adjustment Agency and Office of Distribution officials of the War Food Administration from Washington will be in attendance, according to Bert Whitlock of the regional Office of Distribution in San Francisco.

Support prices, dealers' margins, and ceilings will be discussed. Dave Davidson, chairman of the State AAA Committee, will call the meeting at 10 a.m., Room 247, Phelan Building.

Fred Entermill, D. E. McGarry, and Herbert Forest from Washington will represent AAA and OD.

The Russ Building in San Francisco is the largest office building on the Pacific Coast.

Annual Meeting of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass, June 5, 1944

Published through the sponsorship of Christian Science Society of Niles

While holding military might essential to the victory of allied nations over the anti-Christ claims of injustice and intolerance, The Christian Science Board of Directors today told the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, that freedom is essentially a spiritual gift "to be realized only through spiritual understanding and attainment."

Before an audience of several thousand Christian Scientists essentially local in character due to wartime restrictions upon transportation, the Directors cited the universal determination to win the peace as advance evidence of a world-wide realization that 'righteous victory under arms will not suffice to guarantee freedom to mankind."

Freedom from want and fear, freedom in worship and speech, the Directors stated, constitute much more than a political slogan or governmental ideology, "for our great Way-shower, Christ Jesus, proclaimed centuries ago that freedom accords with God's will and law; furthermore he gave simple, clear direction for the attainment of full freedom for the individual, and through the individual for all humanity.

"In other words, although it is desirable, yes, it is necessary, that the allied nations win the war against the anti-Christ claims of human will and personal domination, of greed, cruelty, injustice and intolerance, yet that righteous victory uder arms will not suffice to guarantee freedom to mankind." That the world is coming to realize this fact was seen by the Directors in the careful consideration being given throughout the world to winning the peace, "that is, making world peace so secure that other wars will be precluded. Let our prayers for our dear ones who are in service, our prayers for our church, our nation, and for all mankind, find consistent expression in our everyday lives. Let us see that the triumph of Truth ove rerror with us is a sure sign that the victory of good over all evil is assured, and that 'the kingdom of God is at hand.'"

The Directors' statement highlighted reports to the third annual meeting of The Mother Church held under wartime conditions which cited increasing evidence of church growth and activity, and unprecedented demands for the works of Mary Baker Eddy and The Christian Science Monitor. Sales of Mrs. Eddy's works were said to have risen to twice the volume of the last pre-war year, indicating the increasing desire for spiritual progress in the wartime emergency.

At the same time, transportation problems and material shortages were reported to have been surmounted by The Christian Science Publishing Society and The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. Two hundred thousand periodicals were estimated to have been delivered and received by Reading Rooms in Great Britain with only seven pieces lost in transit, and occasional copies of Christian Science literature were said to have found their way into some countries of occupied Europe.

Announcement was made by the Directors of the appointment of Paul Stark Seeley, of Cambridge, Mass., as President of The Mother Church for the ensuing year ,succeeding Mrs. Daisette D. S. McKenzie.

Paul Stark Seeley, Associate Editor of the Christian Science periodicals, other than The Christian Science Monitor, a native of Poughkeepsie, New York, became a member of The Mother Church in 1909, while a student at Harvard Law School. He holds the degrees of A. B. from Princeton and LL.B. from Harvard. He served as Committee on Publication for Oregon and then entered the public practice of Christian Science. He resigned as First Reader of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Portland, Oregon, to accept appointment on the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, on which Board he served until elected Associate Editor in 1942. In 1919 Mr. Seeley received instruction in the Normal Class of the Board of Education of The Mother Church, and since then has taught yearly a Primary Class in Christian Science in Portland, Oregon.

Tracing the growth of the Christian Science movement from the time of the erection of the original edifice of The Mother Church, 50 years next December, to the present day, the new President revealed an increase in the number of branch Christian Science churches from less than 100 a half century ago, located in two counalready been. . . .' We fear no problems at home or abroad. As the children of almighty God we accept their challenge as a demand that we use more confidently the power of all-knowing Mind which is ever at hand to reveal every step of the way out of the thralldom of earth into the freedom of God's heaven."

Reports from the field and from the various departments of the Christian Science movement indicated a sharp turn to religion as the mainstay of a war-torn world.

Surmounting of serious wartime problems in transportation added a dramatic touch to the report of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. At one time, Army authorities sent a special airplane on a 400-mile trip to enable a Christian Science lecturer to speak to members of the armed forces, the report stated. Two lecturers, instead of the usual one, were sent into Mexico during the last year, and for the first time in five years, American members of the Board were able to deliver lectures in Great Britain.

Regardless of the German blockade of Europe, copies of Christian Science periodicals were reported by the Trustees under the Will of Mary Baker Eddy to be finding their way into Switzerland.

Despite the emergency rationing of paper and other wartime restrictions, the Trustees of The Christian Science Publishing Society revealed the largest circulation ever attained by the leading Christian Science periodicals, and Bible sales were twice those of 1942. This progress was made possible under paper allotments by reducing the basic weight of paper with no reduction in reading matter, excepting that of The Christian Science Monitor.

In the report of the Manager of Committees on Publication, a warning was sounded that as public thought becomes more socially-minded, a growing number of legislative bills providing for sickness or disability insurance poses a real threat to the growth of our religion.

Unintentionally, no doubt, but nevertheless certainly, the report made it clear that legislation of the type described would, if passed, curtail the freedom of Christian Science practice and thus encroach upon one of the four basic freedoms, the freedom of worship.

It was disclosed that 13 of the Christian Science Army Chaplains are now stationed overseas, and that one of these chaplains has been honored with the Legion of sures us, 'that which is to be hath tries, to nearly 2,900 today located in 54 countries.

"The problems we face are great, but God is greater, far greater," the new President affirmed. "His hold upon the universe is not shaken. The ideas with which every one of humanity's problems, individual or collective, will be solved existed before the problem appeared, for as the prophet as-Merit for exceptionally meritorious conduct and courage under fire, which was an inspiration to the entire command. His report further pointed out that splendid spiritual healing is being accomplished by all of the chaplains.

The report of the Camp Welfare Activities showed that 2,000 War Relief Committees in Christian Science branch churches and societies in the United States and Canada are sending clothing in considerable quantities to Great Britain, Russia, Malta and Greece, and that 145 Wartime Officiating Ministers are at work in the field for the movement, along with 428 volunteer Christian Science Wartime Workers.

FREE PAMPHLETS AVAILABLE TO HOME CANNERS

Housewives undertaking canning of surplus vegetables from the victory garden for the first time should have adequate directions, and Mrs. Maryetta W. Holman suggests they obtain circulars prepared by the Home Demonstration office of the Agricultural Extension Service.

She suggests home gardeners also consider drying of vegetables and fruits for home use. Freezing storage is another good way to keep surplus vegetables and fruits.

The following publications may be had at the Home Demonstration office, P. O. Building, Hayward: Home Canning, Drying of Vegetables and Fruits in the Home, Freezing Storage, The Storage and Protection of Dried Food Products for Home Use.

The 5th War Loan STARTS NEXT WEEK!

WHEREVER your invasion forces are fighting—at sea, in the air, on the ground—they're working together for victory. They know that they must depend on each other, for only by coördinated teamwork will they win through to final victory in the earliest possible time.

The Fifth War Loan starts next week. It's going to take teamwork—a lot of it—to put this drive over the top. For we've got a job to do. As the tempo of invasion rises every one of us must mobilize for support of our fighting men.

In every city, town and hamlet men and women like yourself have banded together as War Bond Volunteer Workers, giving their time to taking your subscriptions for Bonds. Support them. Give them the kind of teamwork our boys are giving to each other on the fighting fronts!

When your Volunteer Worker calls, double your War Bond subscription. It's their job to help raise $16 billions of money for victory during this Fifth drive, $6 billions from individuals like yourself.

Make up your mind to welcome your Victory Volunteer with a friendly smile and an open checkbook—remembering that it's teamwork that does it!

WOMEN AT WAR

Rosebud

Rosebud is eight, and the most beautiful shade of caramel fudge. To her loving Mammy and Pappy she is known, on approximately alternate days, as "Angel" and "You devil child". It was on her devil-child days that Rosebud tied the knots in the shirts that Mammy had taken in for washing, and poured the whole of the vanilla bottle into the lamb stew, just, she said later through bitter tears, to "flavor it up some".

On her angel days Rosebud is equally imaginative even if a more restful occupant of the little shack down on Vinegar Hill. Once when Mammy was out doing day work, Rosebud got a wave of cleaning fever and scoured every pot and pan in the kitchen so that they literally glistened. Another day, left alone, she tidied up Mammy's and Pappy's room to such a point of apple-pie order that it was a week before Pappy could find an undershirt.

Rosebud is a great reader of the newspapers. Mammy and Pappy don't take one, but there are plenty of perfectly good newspapers blowing round Vinegar Hill. It was out of one of them that Rosebud got her idea for spending the ten cents the Bunny had put under her pillow the night her tooth came out. After breakfas Rosebud disappeared down the Hill and reappeared soon after with a beautiful ten-cent War Stamp pasted firmly into a brand-new book with neat little squares for more stamps. She displayed her investment to Mammy. "I declare you're an angel child," Mammy said. Rosebud went on sitting on the kitchen floor staring with large brown eyes at the empty squares in her book. From time to time she took hold of one or another of her teeth and wiggled it, gently.

Mammy was engrossed in a particularly big washing. Rosebud was as quiet as a mouse and Mammy forgot about her until, coming in from the yard with her arms full of dry sheets, she encountered her child with a large hammer in her hand. Scenting the devil in her angel child, Mammy shouted at her, "Rosebud! Come yere with that hammer! What you planning on doing?"

But what was done was done. In Rosebud's other hand was another tooth. Her mouth was stretched in a broad if slightly bloody smile. "I ain't doing nothing, Mammy," she said. "I'm just filling up my stamp book."

HERE'S WHERE YOUR BOND MONEY GOES

If patriotism and sentiment aren't enough to stir you to buy bonds, if you're the kind of person that "has to be shown," here are the cold facts for you:

It costs $440 to simply feed and clothe a soldier for a year before he can participate in combat.

When the soldier is ready for combat he needs certain basic weapons including a .30 calibre semi-automatic rifle costing $80, a $5 bayonet and at least four hand grenades costing $6.24.

He may need a flame-thrower costing $950. If he's part of a gun crew he works with a 155 mm. howitzer costing $23,000.

Before he can land on the beach, the softening-up process by bombers and naval guns means an initial cost running into millions. Heavy bombers cost about $250,000; medium bombers about $110,000 and fighter planes about $50,000. To make one medium bomber takes about 13,000 man hours. Food from 20 acres is needed to feed the workers making a single bomber.

Bombs weighing up to 4,000 pounds cost about $875.

Oxygen masks for the crew of a Flying Fortress cost about $40.

The North African invasion made use of more than 700,000 items of equipment and supply.

Once the soldier lands, the rate of expenditure increases rapidly. In a single day of combat an infantry division expends 300 tons of ammunition.

Ten 50 calibre machine guns firing at a maximum rate of fire for two hours and five minutes would use 1,000,000 rounds of ammunition. It takes 1,832 workers to produce this number of rounds in one day.

COUNTRY CLUB HAS NOVEL PROGRAM AT LAST MEETING

It was a gay, chattering crowd of close to 100 women that attended the last meeting of the season of the Country Club of Washington Township last Tuesday afternoon.

The theme of the afternoon was "Tea at Sardi's," a delightful takeoff of Tom Breneman's entertaining radio program, "Breakfast at Sardi's."

After refreshments were served, at attractively decorated tables, the meeting was called to order by the club's president, Mrs. E. H. Hirsch.

After the business of the day had been completed, the program started with the whole crowd singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," an appropriate song for the occasion, as it was D-Day and many members present had sons in the armed forces.

Mrs. Gladys Williamson then introduced three new members of the club, Mrs. Wilfred Henry, Mrs. W. F. Lamoreux, and Mrs. Leslie Hiller, after which the program really got into swing.

Mrs Ruth Clough, of San Leandro, sang three selections, "This Is Worth Fighting For," "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and "Sing, Sing, Sing." She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Dwight Thornburg.

As is the custom of all "Sardi" programs, the most unusual hat in the crowd had to be selected Finally, Mrs. Lawrence Bunting's hat was chosen, not only because it was unusual, but because, after she told its history, it was decided that it was the cleverest hat there, as she had concocted it out of nothing much more than a wisp of veil and a rosebud or two.

A fashion show followed. Those taking part included: Mrs. Allen Norris, Mrs. Allan Hirsch, Mrs. Walter Connally, Mrs. Joe Shinn, Mrs. Marston Dassel, Miss Flora McKeown, Mrs. Overacker, Mrs. Blake Hill, Mrs. Marriott, Mrs. Alma Searles, Mrs. Martenstein, Mrs L. E. Bailey, Mrs George Bonde, Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Gilbert Smith.

Everything in the way of clothes was modeled, from what the well dressed woman does not wear in the garden to the latest thing in Red Cross uniforms

Mrs. Frank Dusterberry was chairman of the program committee. Hostesses were Mrs. Marston Dassel, Mrs. Harvey Granger, Mrs. Allan Walton, Mrs. D. Q. Grabill, and Mrs. Mervyn Blacow.

In line with the "Sardi" idea, an orchid was awarded to Mrs. E. H. Hirsch for being the best "good neighbor" and to Mrs. Dunlap for being the oldest woman present. She is 92. The door prize was won by Mrs George Mathiesen, and the wishing ring by Mrs. Jackson L. Webster.

The amplifying system used during the program was installed and lent to the club by the Washington Union High School.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

In these days of gross governmental expenditures running into billions of dollars, when we are finacig the most costly war in all history, and going heavily into debt to do it, perhaps it would be well ot remember the old Scotch saying: "Many a mickle makes a muckle!"

The individual taxpayer may feel there's little he can do to plug the dyke, when billions are involved, but it is still true that the little leakages, taken collectively throughout the state and nation, mount into huge figures. This, again, is a case where if we watch out for the little things, the big things will take care of themselves.

With that in mind, many legislative interim committees are studying the state's fiscal problems, among them the Joint Legislative Committee on Study of Tax Structure and Adult Education, headed by Senator H. E. Dillinger of Placerville.

A sub-committee of this group, with Assemblyman Lee T. Bashore of Glendora as its chairman, has submitted a partial report of its findings, dealing with asserted leaks in school expenditures which it believes can be eliminated with benefit to the taxpayers. No one knows better than the farmers the vital importance of maintaining an efficient educational system—and the thumb-nail review of this legislative sub-committee's findings should not be construed as an attack on the schools.

Critics of certain types of adult education classes have for years

GRANDMOTHER'S WAR BONDS FOR GRANDCHILDREN'S FUTURE

SOCIAL

Mrs. Anna Bradford, worthy matron of Orient Chapter, O.E.S., announces that a party will be held at the Masonic Hall the night of June 14, honoring matrons, patrons and line officers of the organization.

Several ladies of the Toyon Branch of the Children's Hospital took a trip to Camp Shoemaker this week. Those who went included Mrs. C. E. Martenstein, Mrs. Overacker, Mrs Grabill, and Mrs Ford. They took with them cherries, magazines, and cigarettes to give the boys in the solarium which the branch is sponsoring. Mrs. Martenstein also donated a very fine radio, which delighted the boys. They discovered one interesting fact on their excursion—that the boys would rather have magazines (up-to-date) than cookies.

Will the ladies who are planning to attend the last meeting of the Guild at the Niles Congregational Church next Wednesday at Mrs. Robert Blacow's home, please bring their own cups, forks, and spoons?

MRS. R. A. GRIFFIN INSTALLED AS P.T.A. HEAD IN IRVINGTON

Seventy-five members of the Irvington P.T.A. and several guests of members enjoyed the pot-luck supper held in the school cafeteria on Thursday evening, June 1.

After the supper a business meeting of the P.T.A. was held. Then followed a musical program consisting of a piano solo by Marylyn Belding and vocal selections by Joan Dutra, accompanied by Miss Mary V. Bristow.

The highlight of the evening was the installation of Mrs. R. A. Griffin as president of the P.T.A. Mrs Robert Mayock, a past president of the unit, was the installing officer

After the impressive installation ceremony of the president and her officers, there was community singing led by Mrs. Walter Connolly.

The Summer Round-up held at the Irvington School on June 1 was very successful.

Twentytwo children were examined by Dr. E. M. Grimmer, assisted by Mrs. Edna Ebright.

MINISTERS MEET AND DISCUSS CHURCH SCHOOL

The Ministers Association of Southern Alamedo County held its monthly breakfast at the home of Rev. Fred C. Hahn, pastor of the Full Gospel Temple in Niles, last Tuesday morning.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Rev. Jackson L. Webster of Newark, and the main point of discussion was the progress being made on the week-day church school in Washington and Eden townships.

Mrs. Blanche Carrier, of San Francisco, who is director of religious education for the Council of Churches of Northern California, told about the work that is being done in the week-day schools in this area. It seems that there are only 10 communities north of Bakersfield who have successfully conducted the church school, due largely to the fact that a California State Teachers certicate is the requirement for anyone teaching in the church week-day schools. This is especially hard now as teachers are not as available as they were before the war. It is hoped that after the war, the week-day church school will be a part of every community.

During Tuesday's meeting at Rev. Hahn's home, new officers were elected, as this was the last meeting of the season. Those elected were: president, Rev. Godfrey Matthews of the Congregational Church, Hayward; and secretary, Capt. C. Irby of the Salvation Army. Elected as co-ordinators to bring about closer cooperation between Hayward and the portion of Southern Alameda County outside of Hayward was Rev. Jackson L. Webster and Rev. T. C. Harris.

BILL KOSKI'S PACK FRAMES SCORE HIT IN OAKLAND

If you read your Township Register as thoroughly as you should have read it last week, you will remember that in the story of the Boy Scout Camporee, Bill Koski's pack frame, which he originated, made a big hit. Further proof of the hit that it made is evidenced by the following letter which Fred Duffie, Niles scoutmaster, received this week.

Dear Mr. Duffie:

Would you kindly do me the favor of sending a sketch with the dimensions of the pack frames that your troop had at the Camporee? I was very much interested in them when I saw them Sunday morning and would like the dimensions so that I could have some of the boys make them.

TOYON BRANCH TO HOLD FOOD SALE JUNE 17

Toyon Branch of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay is sponsoring a food sale, which will be held Saturday morning, June 17, at th eMacRae Building, next to Reese's Drugstore.

The food sale was originally planned for this week, but since it conflicted with the rummage sale being held by the Guild of the Niles Congregational Church, it was decided to postpone it until the above date.

The sale is being held in order to procure money to furnish cigarettes, magazines, etc. for the boys in the hospital at Shoemaker. The Toyon Branch is a sponsor for one of the solariums there.

Anyone who wishes to contribute anything to this sale—pies, cakes, salads, canned fruit, etc.—can bring it directly to the sale, or get in touch with Mrs. E. D. Bristow, who is chairman of the food sale committee.

W. F. A. ISSUES WAGE CEILING FOR CHERRY PICKERS

The War Food Administration has issued a wage ceiling order providing maximum wage rates that can be paid to workers picking cherries in certain northern California counties, according to Roland Ballou, executive officer of the California WFA Wage Board.

The hourly ceiling rate is $1 per hour in Sonoma, Napa, Alameda, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, San Benito, and Monterey counties and the portions of Contra Costa and Solano Counties lying west of the Mt. Diablo meridian. The piece rate is four cents per pound, or the equivalent, where container rates are used and it applies to both county groups.

The wage ceiling order was prompted by extremely high rates prevailing for picking cherries, according to Ballou. He urged all growers and workers to comply with the order. Penalties for willful violation are fine of not more than $1,000, imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Local offices will be set up in the near future to handle appeals. Further information pertaining to the order may be obtained from Roland Ballou at 2181 Bancroft Way, Berkeley.

Why a Farmer Should Buy and Keep War Bonds

by Gabriel Lundy
Head, Dept. of Agricultural Economics
South Dakota State College

PATRIOTISM, willingness to combat harmful inflation, and a desire to build up a reserve of post-war buying power will impel the farmer to buy and keep War Bonds.

Farmer loyalty will express itself not only in maximum production of necessary food and fiber for the winning of the war. Farmer loyalty will also express itself in the equally necessary and patriotic duty to invest cash with which the government can purchase both food and war equipment. Fortunately farmers are receiving higher prices and larger incomes. This has enabled many of them to reduce old debts to manageable amounts or to acquire surplus cash for Bond purchases. A sense of responsibility toward the need of the nation for funds with which to carry on the war will urge farmers to purchase War Bonds to the limit of their resources.

Both direct self-interest and patriotism dictate the purchase of Bonds as a means to prevent inflation. During all our large wars we have had high war prices followed by very low prices and depression some years later. During World War I many farmers and others unwisely used the enlarged income to bid up the prices of farm land. As a result the farm mortgage debt was more than doubled. Then when post-war prices dropped very low many farmers became unable to pay, and lost their farms through foreclosure. A repetition of this calamity can be avoided by investing in War Bonds instead of buying land at inflated prices and on credit.

The danger of inflation, however, is not limited to land. It is also important not to bid up the prices of other things. Price inflation and price collapse in every line are harmful. Such harm can be avoided by diverting surplus funds away from the markets for scarce commodities and into War Bonds. Financing the war by means of heavier taxes would be more anti-inflationary, but since Congress has decided in favor of Bonds it is our duty and privilege to invest in War Bonds.

Good farm management and self-interest as well as patriotism will urge the farmer to buy and keep War Bonds. If prices fall after this war as they did after our other large wars, the farmer with a reserve in Bonds will be in an ideal economic position. Farm buildings and machinery are wearing out faster during the present war period than during normal times due to difficulties in obtaining needed material and labor for repairs and replacements. Farmers should now be putting money in Bonds to cover these costs. About 10 percent of the total machinery investment and about 4 percent of the total farm building investment should be saved each year to cover wear and depreciation. With lower prices, farm equipment, new buildings and new furniture and household equipment will be at the farmer's disposal for less money after the War than now.

Furthermore, if he holds his Bonds until maturity, his money will be increased by one-fourth. With more money and lower prices, the Bond-investing farmer will then have cash to make his farm work easier and more productive. His money will also yield him more in home comforts, education for the children, or in the purchase of a farm for the son.

The danger of war-induced inflation does not end with the actual fighting. Post-war inflation is fully as threatening. Large-scale conversion of Bonds into cash for the purchase of articles, commodities, etc., before industry has had time to convert fully to peace-time production, will be undesirable. By holding his Bonds longer, the farmer or other Bond-holder will contribute to the elimination of both a wild "boom" and a subsequent depression.

Agriculture and industry are intimately interrelated and interdependent. The government is now industry's big customer. After the war, farmers will be big buyers of industrial products. If the accumulated purchasing power is released gradually, and if income is widely distributed, industry can furnish full and continuous employment. In turn this will give farmers a profitable market for their products. Thus, both patriotism and far-sighted self-interest will induce farmers and others to buy and keep their War Bonds until after peace is achieved.

NOW IT'S YOUR TURN

Invasion is on!

Your boy, or your neighbor's boy, is going through hell over there so that you can go on leading your quiet, peaceful life here in Washington Township just as you have always lived it.

Did you ever think that he would give anything he's got (which isn't much right now) to lead that same quiet, uninterrupted existence that you are living? Who's going to make it possible for him to do that? No, not your neighbor, nor the people in Oakland, or in San Francisco, or in New York.

This is no time to shrug and say "Let George do it." You've let George do it too many times. Now, it's up to YOU. Get out that bulging wallet of yours and say, "It's my turn now. I'm going to buy every bond I can during the Fifth War Loan drive."

And even if your wallet isn't bulging, get those stray nickels and dimes together and see if you haven't got enough to buy another bond.

Each time you buy a bond, it's the same as saying to one of those kids in the battlefield, "Look, buddy, I'm behind you, see? I want to see you get home safely and have some fun like the rest of us. You deserve it."

Yes, each bond you buy is a handshake and a pat on the back for some lonesome, heartsick boy in no-man's land.

'D' FOR DELIVERANCE

Lacking but one day, the long-prepared-for D-Day assault occurred exactly two and a half years after the infamous Pearl Harbor sneak attack.

At 12:01 Tuesday morning, English time, hundreds of warships opened up on Hitler's "impregnable" defenses; 11,000 planes challenged the remnants of the once-vaunted luftwaffe, and untold hundreds of thousands of American and British troops had landed on 240 miles of French coast by evening.

The "D" in D-Day expressed the danger, destruction, death, the devil and damnation which all go with war. The "D" also stood for DELIVERANCE of the enslaved millions who had writhed for the four and three-quarter years under the heels of tyrants.

The United Nations invasion is not won yet, but the preponderance of right and might are on our side. After all, God IS the heaviest artillery.

This cannot be called a "tyrant's war" without honoring the aggressor. Let us rather glorify the victors in advance and call it The Victors War. For win it we will, else Christendom would perish.

The Lord knocked down the walls of Jericho; now it's the United Nations' turn to knock down the western wall and make "Jerry go"!—W.W.

IRENE STEFANONI BECOMES BRIDE OF MERVIN TELLES

On the afternoon of Saturday, June 3, at 1:30 o'clock Miss Irene Stefanoni became the bride of Mervin Telles of Mission San Jose. The ceremony took place in Livermore at the Catholic Church and was attended by friends and relatives of both the young people.

The bride was beautifully attired in a very becoming street suit of grey wool with accessories of watermelon colored hat very daintily tied with a brown veil under the chin. She wore brown slippers and carried a brown bag.

Her maid of honor, Miss Rosetta Stefanoni, sister of the bride, wore a chocolate brown suit, white hat, and brown shoes and bag. Leland Telles, brother of the groom, was best man.

The young folks were entertained at a reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Alice Stefanoni, in Livermore, immediately following the ceremony.

They will reside in Mission San Jose at the home of Mrs. Rose Telles. Mervin Telles works at the Kimber Poultry Farm and graduated from Washington Union High School in 1942.

Thinking Things Over...

By VIVIAN BATMAN

"Look," I said to the editor the other morning, "I don't have to work here any more. I have got me a new job."

I showed him this ad which I cut out:

GIRL WANTED

PEPPY, beautiful brunette who would "love to get her hands on a weekly and run it her way," may have the opportunity provided she will also adopt the lazy publisher and cater to his whims. She would get and write news, and keep small and prosperous establishment straightened out with Income Tax Collector.

She should be between 25 and 30, on-the-make for happiness, a good companion, partial to hollyhocks, books, good food, and occasional champagne.

Submit photo, and shoot-the-works in first letter.

"H'm," h'med the editor, rubbing his forehead. "Do you mind telling me in just what way you fill those qualifications?" He asked, ironic-like.

"No, I don't mind telling you," I said. "I like hollyhocks. In fact, I'm very fond of hollyhocks."

"Well, plant yourself some — right out here in front of The Register window, if you have to have 'em," he said.

"Don't get me started planting," I said, "or I'm apt to end up by planting a strip of lawn on Main Street alongside the S. P. freight shed. And I cant do that right now, on account of I won't have time to mow it."

"Don't worry about that," says the editor. "The Chamber of Commerce will mow it."

WILL THEY?

You hear of the strangest things these days. Who'd ever think you could buy earthworms in cartons! No, this is not a new frozen food item. Mr. Frick, who has a plumbing shop here and sells them, says that it is a nicely thought-up idea for lazy fishermen. You don't have to dig your own! The wriggling creatures live in dirt in their cardboard homes for several weeks.

Everybody knows Warren Gravestock, principal of the night school at Washington High, president of the Men's Club of Washington Township, et al., et al. But does everybody know Mr. Gravestock's little son, Don, aged seven?

Well, he is rather a remarkable boy. (Not, of course, as remarkable as your own boy, but almost). He speaks Portuguese as fluently as he speaks English, having lived next door to a very fine Portuguese family.

In fact, his very first word was a Portuguese word. When the Brazilian vice-consul was visiting the high school not long ago, and Mr. Gravestock and son Don were showing him around, the vice-consul, Mauricia Wellisch, very much impressed by the boy's fluency in Portuguese, said, "Why don't you teach your dad how to speak Portuguese?"

Young Don scoffed, in the manner that is typical of the young towards their parents' intelligence, "Aw, no. It'd probably take dad all day to learn it."

And where's that poem by our Niles poetess that I promised you last week? Well, I'm still promising it to you, but for NEXT WEEK for sure.

FARMER'S CORNER

insisted that tap dancing, golf, lampshade making, and many other types of adult education are not a proper charge against the state. Criticism has also been leveled at the methods sometimes used to secure and calculate attendance as a basis for collecting state funds for such classes.

The committee, in taking note of these criticisms, has found that state expenditures for this purpose have jumped from a total of $1,500,000, just after the transfer of the so-called county matching requirements to the state, to a total now in excess of $6,000,000.

The legislative committee notes, in all fairness, that the large increase shown for the last three years is undoubtedly due to the war—the training of industrial workers, defense personnel, air raid wardens, etc.

Then the committee makes this report:

"It should also be pointed out that, in addition to the monies received from the federal government for the purpose of conducting war production training, the schools took advantage of the situation and also claimed these same trainees for ADA from the state. This resulted in those schools conducting war production training courses, under the guise of adult education, receiving DOUBLE COMPENSATION from the state and federal governments for the same operation"

In addition to the foregoing costs to the state of adult education, the report notes, bonus apportionments are allowed adult education schools for the first 30 adults of ADA each year. Then the committee reports: "We have determined that some school districts are taking advantage of this bonus apportionment law in that while the legislature evidently intended that only one bonus should go to a school district for special day and evening classes, it has been interpreted that bonus apportionments will be allocated to each adult school in the district, with the result that in one school district we find seven adult schools claiming the bonus apportionment for the first 30 students in each of the seven schools."

The legislative committee then recommends that sections of the law dealing with bonus apportionments be repealed, thereby saving the state approximately $1,099,260 per year The legislative committee further recommends that the law should be amended to so define adult education that no class in adult education may be established or continued for less than 15 persons per session, over a one month period.

Many other recommendations are made by the Bashore subcommittee which, for lack of space, can't be reported here, but these basic conclusions should be noted:

"Tax levies for the support of public schools should be on the basis of need. Our state laws should be strengthened to prevent school districts from using various programs as a vehicle for building up their local finances"

The conditions in school districts for which the committee recommends remedial action are, this writer believes, symptomatic of a trend in many branches of government—a disposition on the part of various agencies to take advantage of circumstances to bolster budgets sometimes without regard for the taxpayers who foot the bill. The fault, however, lies almost as much with the public, which has disregarded such leaks, as with the public officials. It's time to start plugging the holes in the dyke!
